RESPONSIBLE USE OF ICT

As part of your child's curriculum and the development of ICT skills, we provide supervised access to the internet. We believe that the effective use of the internet and email is an essential skill for children as they grow up in the modern world. Please would you sign and return the consent form so that your child may use the internet at school.

Although there are concerns about pupils having access to undesirable materials, we have taken positive steps to reduce this risk at school. Our school internet provider operates a filtering system that restricts access to inappropriate materials.

Whilst every endeavour is made to ensure that suitable restrictions are placed on the ability of children to access inappropriate materials, the school cannot be held responsible for the nature or content of materials accessed through the internet. Ultimately it is the responsibility of the parent or guardian for setting and conveying the standards that their children should follow when using media and information sources. To that end, the school will not be liable for any damages arising from your child's use of internet facilities and respects the right of each family to decide whether or not to apply for access.

During the school day, teachers will guide pupils towards appropriate materials and acceptable use of computers.

There is always the potential for negative use of new technologies. You may like to read a document produced by the DfE (The Department for Education). It is available to download on the anti-bullying alliance website www.anti-bullyingalliance.org.uk. We hope that you find this document useful in raising awareness of cyber bullying. Could you please spend some time at home reading through the document with your son/daughter in order to raise awareness of the realities of cyber bullying. Thank you.

DATA PROTECTION/PRIVACY NOTICE

Under data protection law, individuals have a right to be informed about how the school uses any personal data that we hold about them. We comply with this right by providing 'privacy notices' (sometimes called 'fair processing notices') to individuals where we are processing their personal data.

This privacy notice explains how we collect, store and use personal data about pupils.

We, St John's Church of England School, are the 'data controller' for the purposes of data protection law.

Personal data that we may collect, use, store and share (when appropriate) about pupils includes, but is not restricted to:

- Contact details, contact preferences, date of birth, identification documents
- Results of internal assessments and externally set tests
- Pupil and curricular records
- Characteristics, such as ethnic background, language, eligibility for free school meals, or special educational needs
- Exclusion information
- Details of any medical conditions, including physical and mental health
- Attendance information
- Safeguarding information
- Details of any support received, including care packages, plans and support providers
- Photographs
- CCTV images captured in school

We may also hold data about pupils that we have received from other organisations, including other schools, local authorities and the Department for Education.

We use this data to:

- Support pupil learning
- Monitor and report on pupil progress
- Provide appropriate pastoral care
- Protect pupil welfare
- Assess the quality of our services
- Administer admissions waiting lists

- Carry out research
- Comply with the law regarding data sharing

We only collect and use pupils' personal data when the law allows us to. Most commonly, we process it where:

- We need to comply with a legal obligation
- We need it to perform an official task in the public interest

Less commonly, we may also process pupils' personal data in situations where:

- We have obtained consent to use it in a certain way
- We need to protect the individual's vital interests (or someone else's interests)

Where we have obtained consent to use pupils' personal data, this consent can be withdrawn at any time. We will make this clear when we ask for consent, and explain how consent can be withdrawn.

Some of the reasons listed above for collecting and using pupils' personal data overlap, and there may be several grounds which justify our use of this data.

While the majority of information we collect about pupils is mandatory, there is some information that can be provided voluntarily.

Whenever we seek to collect information from you or your child, we make it clear whether providing it is mandatory or optional. If it is mandatory, we will explain the possible consequences of not complying.

We keep personal information about pupils while they are attending our school. We may also keep it beyond their attendance at our school if this is necessary in order to comply with our legal obligations. Our Records Retention Policy sets out how long we keep information about pupils.

If you wish to see a copy of our records retention policy, please ask at the School Office.

We do not share information about pupils with any third party without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so.

Where it is legally required, or necessary, (and it complies with data protection law) we may share personal information about pupils with:

- Our local authority – to meet our legal obligations to share certain information with it, such as safeguarding concerns and exclusions
- The Department for Education (DfE)
- Schools that the pupil's attend after leaving us
- Our local authority
- Our regulator - Ofsted.
- Health professional advisers and consultants

We are required to provide information about pupils to the Department for Education as part of statutory data collections such as the school census. Some of this information is then stored in the National Pupil Database (NPD), which is owned and managed by the Department and provides evidence on school performance to inform research.

The database is held electronically so it can easily be turned into statistics. The information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and exam boards.

The Department for Education may share information from the NPD with other organisations which promote children's education or wellbeing in England. Such organisations must agree to strict terms and conditions about how they will use the data.

For more information, see the Department's webpage on how it collects and shares research data.

You can also contact the Department for Education with any further questions about the NPD.

Where we transfer personal data to a country or territory outside the European Economic Area, we will do so in accordance with data protection law.

Individuals have a right to make a 'subject access request' to gain access to personal information that the school holds about them.

Parents/carers can make a request with respect to their child's data where the child is not considered mature enough to understand their rights over their own data (usually under the age of 12), or where the child has provided consent.

Parents also have the right to make a subject access request with respect to any personal data the school holds about them.

If you make a subject access request, and if we do hold information about you or your child, we will:

- Give you a description of it
- Tell you why we are holding and processing it, and how long we will keep it for
- Explain where we got it from, if not from you or your child
- Tell you who it has been, or will be, shared with
- Let you know whether any automated decision-making is being applied to the data, and any consequences of this
- Give you a copy of the information in an intelligible form

Individuals also have the right for their personal information to be transmitted electronically to another organisation in certain circumstances.

If you would like to make a request please contact our data protection officer.

Parents/carers also have a legal right to access to their child's educational record. To request access, please contact our Data Protection Officer.

Under data protection law, individuals have certain rights regarding how their personal data is used and kept safe, including the right to:

- Object to the use of personal data if it would cause, or is causing, damage or distress
- Prevent it being used to send direct marketing
- Object to decisions being taken by automated means (by a computer or machine, rather than by a person)
- In certain circumstances, have inaccurate personal data corrected, deleted or destroyed, or restrict processing
- Claim compensation for damages caused by a breach of the data protection regulations

To exercise any of these rights, please contact our data protection officer.

Complaints

We take any complaints about our collection and use of personal information very seriously.

If you think that our collection or use of personal information is unfair, misleading or inappropriate, or have any other concern about our data processing, please raise this with us in the first instance.

To make a complaint, please contact our data protection officer.

CONSENT TO TAKE PHOTOS OF YOUR CHILD

We really value using photos of the children to be able to showcase what they do in school and show what life at our school is like to others. Sometimes we take photographs of the pupils and use them in the school’s weekly newsletter to parents, on the school’s website, social media channels, on display boards around school and in promotional material for the school.

We would appreciate you taking the time to give your consent. However, if you’re not happy for us to take photos, that’s no problem – we will accommodate your preferences.

I give permission for my child’s image to be taken and used for the purposes list above.....
 You have the right to withdraw this consent at any time by notifying us in writing.
